Student Learning Outcomes for the
B.A. Comparative Literature and Foreign Languages

The department of Comparative Literature and Foreign Languages offers majors Chinese, Classics, French, German, Japanese, Languages and Russian. Students completing the B.A. in these majors should demonstrate the following skills related to literary and cultural texts in a range of genres and media and in texts that arise from cultures other than English speaking ones:

1. Ability to analyze texts relevant to the target culture
2. Good familiarity with the literary tradition and with other aspects of the target culture
3. Ability to do research, to write clearly, and to argue a sustained thesis

Program Website: http://complitforlang.ucr.edu/