UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, RIVERSIDE

Student Learning Outcomes for the B.A. in Women’s Studies

Students completing the B.A. major will be able to:

1. trace the production of genders and sexualities both historically and culturally within the context of racial, ethnic, class, and national hierarchies
2. demonstrate strong critical thinking, research and writing skills in relation to gender and sexualities
3. comprehend and produce research on intersectionalities (e.g., genders and sexualities in relation to race, class, nation, disability, religion and labor) in one of the upper division streams of interest
4. understand the range of approaches that constitute feminist methodologies in gender and sexualities studies as an interdisciplinary field
5. gain requisite skills to prepare them for graduate school in a related academic or professional field, or in preparation for employment in an organization having an impact on gender(s) and/or sexualities
